David A. Sessions
President
Willis A. Smith Construction, Inc.

As corporate officer, Mr. Sessions has total responsibility for specific client relationships and the authority to commit the resources of the Company on all aspects of those projects. Mr. Sessions has been with Willis A. Smith Construction, Inc. for 22 years and on specific projects, have total responsibility from initial contact through completion. David's responsibilities are to the client for cost, quality, and schedule. He also serves as internal team leader for individual projects during design, pre-construction and construction phases.

Mr. Sessions bring to each project more than 28 years of multi-disciplined experience in educational, retail, healthcare, religious, and resort and condominium construction. During my construction career, he has held estimating, project management, and corporate executive positions. My role is to provide a from-the-top-down leadership example and to insure that all resources needed are provided to the staff to enable them to do their jobs and ensure a quality performance.

Mr. Sessions has a B.S. in Building Construction from the University of Florida.
